Candidates for President

Harry Boyce

In total, I have been lucky enough to serve as President of the NFAS for 10 years, and recently I have been asked 'why?' Having been a member of the Society for 34 years I care very much about both the members and the future of the NFAS. I am keen for the NFAS to survive and thrive and will continue to work to ensure its future is secure. I look to balance the need to move forward and evolve with common sense and practicality – it is possible to mix tradition with new processes and ideas and hopefully improve the experience for all NFAS members.

Being a member of the NFAS has not only given me a tremendous amount of pleasure being out in the woodland with a bow, but I have also made many friends around the country that I would have never met otherwise. I like to walk the championship courses over the weekends, rather than shoot, and meet as many people as possible, especially those that are not on social media or email.

Recent challenges such as the coronavirus pandemic has not diminished my passion for the position of President – with the Committee as a team we did our best to guide the membership and clubs through a tricky time.

What does the future hold? If I am voted to continue my time as President, I will continue to give back to the society by investigating funding opportunities and further grow the NFAS family as the top field archery organisation in the UK. In the meantime, I will continue to enjoy our great sport and hope to meet you in the future.

I have really enjoyed my time as a NFAS member shooting with my son Craig and now currently enjoying our sport with my granddaughter Lacey.

Although I have held several committee positions in the past including General Secretary, Supplies Officer, and Field Officer I feel I still have more to offer after a recent health issue has been happily resolved.

I look forward to serving the membership should they vote me in and promise to uphold our traditions.
